About us

After the resounding success of its inaugural edition, Valora Model United Nations proudly returns with Valora MUN 2.0—bigger, bolder, and even more impactful. Valora MUN 1.0 marked a significant milestone by hosting over 200 delegates, uniting passionate young minds driven by diplomacy, debate, and leadership. The conference received overwhelmingly positive feedback from both delegates and Executive Board members, who applauded its seamless execution, engaging committees, and exceptional hospitality.

One of the most memorable highlights of Valora MUN 1.0 was its highly successful surprise committee, which captivated delegates through its creativity, depth, and thrilling dynamics, leaving a lasting impression. Alongside intellectually stimulating committee sessions, Valora ensured a perfect balance with energetic socials, fostering networking, friendships, and unforgettable memories. The experience was further enhanced by excellent food and hospitality, ensuring that every delegate felt welcomed, valued, and comfortable throughout the conference.

At its heart, Valora MUN stands for empowerment—especially women empowerment. Built on the belief that leadership knows no gender, Valora provides a platform where young women's voices are amplified, respected, and celebrated. From leadership roles within the Secretariat to the culture of inclusivity promoted across committees, Valora actively encourages confidence, courage, and independent thinking among the women leaders of tomorrow.

Valora is not just a Model United Nations conference—it is a movement. A movement that blends discipline with creativity, diplomacy with passion, and leadership with purpose. With Valora MUN 2.0, we promise greater mysteries, innovative committees, enriching debate, and an empowering environment where every delegate is inspired to rise, speak, and lead.

LETTER from the FOUNDER

Dear Delegates,

It is my absolute honor to welcome you to this edition of our MUN. Our goal is simple yet ambitious — to create a platform that brings together not just the inspiring ones but every single participant who wishes to grow, speak, and make a difference.

We don't just aim to provide you with an amazing debating experience, but to also bring you fresh ideas, creative formats, and an overall experience unlike anything you've seen before. This MUN is about more than arguments and resolutions — it's about collaboration, learning, and fun.

As the founder, I could not be prouder of the effort and dedication that has gone into making this event possible. But what will truly make this conference remarkable is you — your passion, your diplomacy, and your willingness to listen, learn, and lead.

So, embrace every moment, collaborate with your fellow delegates, and leave here not just with awards or certificates, but with a stronger voice, broader perspective, and renewed motivation to make an impact.

Let's make this conference one that sparks not just discussion, but transformation.

Warm regards,
Mahi Yadav
Founder

LETTER from the CO-FOUNDER

Dear Delegates,

When we first envisioned Valora MUN, we didn't just want to create another conference—we wanted to build a space for youth to rise with purpose and compassion, a space for voices that often go unheard.

Valora means strength, and to us, strength isn't dominance—it's conviction and courage. This MUN was born to challenge traditional norms, empower women and youth, and redefine leadership in the 21st century.

As Co-Founder, I am proud to see Valora becoming a place where delegates discover not just global affairs, but their own power—where questioning the world leads to changing it, and where confidence is built through collaboration, not competition.

To all participants, I extend my heartfelt gratitude for joining this journey. May your time at Valora MUN be one of growth, learning, and inspiration.

With regards,
Riya Dang
Co-Founder
